The Shores at Peconic Landing Named ‘Best Nursing Home’ by U.S. News & World Report

GREENPORT, N.Y., November 22, 2021 – The Shores at Peconic Landing has been named among U.S. News & World Report’s “Best Nursing Homes” for the 2021-2022 year. It has been awarded this distinction every year since 2010 and is among the top 13% of skilled nursing centers in the nation that have been recognized in this cycle. Peconic Landing also received the highest designation under the short-term category for its rehabilitative care neighborhood, The Bluffs.

To qualify as a “Best Nursing Home,” care centers must have received the highest possible rating of High Performing in short-term rehabilitation, long-term care, or both, according to the U.S. News methodology report. Ratings reflect the publication’s exclusive analysis of care, safety, health inspections, staffing, and quality outcome measures, using data primarily obtained from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS).

“It is incredibly rewarding to see our team recognized for their hard work by a leading authority in healthcare,” said Robert J. Syron, President and CEO of Peconic Landing. “Each and every team member in our Health Center has proven their dedication to serving our members over and over again, and this year, despite its challenges, is no different.”

The Best Nursing Home finder features ratings on both long-term and short-term care. The Long-Term Care Rating provides families and prospective residents who need help with daily activities with analysis and information regarding the quality of care provided by nursing homes. The rating includes data on staffing, success in preventing ER visits and pneumonia vaccination rates, among other metrics. Out of 13,175 nursing homes that received a Long-Term Care Rating, 1,063 were designated as High-Performing, according to U.S. News.

The Short-Term Care Rating incorporates measures of quality including consistency of registered nurse staffing, use of antipsychotic drugs and success in preventing falls. For 2021-22, 13,500 facilities received a Short-Term Rating, while only 1,651 homes earned a High-Performing Rating.

"U.S. News takes pride in providing relevant, up-to-date information when making any sort of health care decision," says Zach Adams, health data engineer at U.S. News. "Profiles now include resident and staff COVID-19 vaccination rates alongside information on how to pay for a facility. This important information can help families, residents and caregivers make a decision that keeps safety and accessibility at the highest priority."

Peconic Landing has participated in 3 on-site surveys by the CMS since the beginning of the pandemic and was found each time to be in substantial compliance with fundamental health and safety protocols.

"Given all of the obstacles we have faced throughout the past year and a half, I am so proud of the dedicated team members in our Health Center who continue to provide the highest quality of care to our members," said Gregory Garrett, Chief Operating Officer and Administrator of Health Services at Peconic Landing. "The results of these surveys and assessments are a testament to the tremendous efforts and commitment of those on the frontlines. Congratulations to the entire team here at Peconic Landing."
